Course and content were interesting and engaging. Assignments were challenging and could have been better spread out.
Dr. Girard was a pleasure to have as a professor. His videos, instructions, and syllabus are clear and direct. His dedication is evident through all interactions towards our success. Thank you, Dr. G.
Dr. Girard was a pleasure to study under and was extremely attentive and responsive. He provided students with video each week, sometimes numerous videos, and they were massively helpful, as were his email and D2L announcement updates. OUTSTANDING professor!
This was a great course and I enjoyed learning how to use the Design Thinking process. This course was also great because it was the first time we've done group work in the program. My group, in particular, was EXCELLENT and I think I've made new friendships as a result. I do understand that some students had team members who were not as engaged and I hope that is reflected in their peer evaluations. I think that there were some questions around the learning activity and knowledge artifacts and what was expected from those. I understand wanting to be cautious about providing examples to encourage creativity, but I think some of us took an educated guess and adopted a "submit and see what happens" approach. I was impressed by Dr. Girard's availability and willingness to review assignments before they were due. I found him to be extremely helpful throughout the process. It was clear that Dr. Girard has a vision for this course and had fun executing it.
